New databases and journal added to Warner's online collection

Warner has added two new databases and one new journal to its collection of online resources. Read on to learn more about each resource and how they might help you with your assignments!

Digital Theatre+

The Digital Theatre+ collection includes a variety of theatrical practices and practitioners – from Artaud to Zola – giving you credible materials to enhance your essays, research and performances, and help you develop your theatrical skills and knowledge. With 500+ high quality productions, 450+ lectures, interviews, and documentaries, and 400+ written resources, Digital Theatre+ is the ultimate tool to help you excel in your studies and prepare for a future career in the arts. It's also just good fun, with full performances from the Royal Shakespeare Company, BBC and more.

Milton Studies

Milton Studies is published twice a year as a hub for scholarship on poet and polemicist John Milton (1608-74). Focusing on many aspects of Milton's life and writing, essays published in Milton Studies can cover anything from his biography, literary history, political or cultural contexts, relationships to other authors and critical and creative responses to his works. Students and literary scholars alike will find useful information within this journal.

Dear Paisley,

I have to do an assignment on the psychology of fear for my PSYC class, but I have no idea what database to use—there's so many! What database would be the best one?

Sincerely, A Panicking Psychology Major

Dear Panicking Psychology Major,

Let me put my thinking cat on... Have mew checked out the Databases homepage? Mew can narrow down the list using the All Subjects dropdown! Choose "Psychology & Counseling" from the list, and mew'll see the specific databases that are about Psychology or Counseling. There's even a "Best Bets" box that has the particular databases that will be most useful—in this case, PsycInfo and PsycArticles. Another good source for videos would be Psychotherapy.net where mew can watch interviews with patients. Make sure mew use the right keywords like "fear," "phobia" and more—anything is pawisible!

Sincerely, Paisley the Library Cat
